

Calculate the magnitude (in centimeters) and direction (in standard form) of the resultant vector for each diagram using the method of components. Use the 1 cm gridlines towards this end. A ruler and protractor are not needed for this exercise.

